

Inspired by the game: "Demon's Souls". To experience an unforgiving Dark Souls type game with a light hearted atmosphere, accompanied with all the survival you can handle. You'll face an endless number of undead creatures that will try to hunt you down, using traps, cameras, and even scent. There are plenty of locations to explore from abandoned campsites, to cabins and even cave systems. The forest is full of many different obstacles, such as flooded areas, and abandoned watchtowers. This game is all about hunting your prey, luring them into the traps, learning the forest and it's creatures so you can destroy them once and for all. Now it's time to hunt. Parenting Book for Parents Shaping Girls Photos by Alison Connors How to Raise a Wolf Girl is rooted in the philosophy of outsider parenting — making your family's voice be the voice the child hears. Both Gentle and Gentle Wolf originated from a longing to raise a child who would flourish, handle the world appropriately, and grow into a stable, healthy, confident, yet feminine young woman. A parent shaping a girl is raising the child into the world as she is meant to be. The ultimate goal is to raise happy, confident, and curious children who love the world, their world, and humanity with little concern for a social construct. The aim is to see beautiful, healthy, confident, maturing girls just bloom in this world. When the Gentle were looking into any program to attend we saw a bumbling group of women with a lack of confidence. Looking in to the non-profit's philosophy, we saw an exciting girls-only program that would meet our need for a girl. After the first couple of days of our exploration of the program, we realized this was not the right one. We decided to look again for a course that would fit our needs. After a while, we received word that they would open the Gentle/Gentle Wolf program for women. In my heart, I knew The Gentle Wolf would be the unique place for my daughter. I open up my value judgment on the motherhood we are raising our daughter. Every choice we make presents her with the opportunity to see as others see her. I remember my parents making me learn to shave. I had the opportunity to see that in the photos, good or bad, I would know in the photos I was the one who took it. I grew up with the knowledge that my decisions about myself would be determined by other people's
