As a result of introducing the technology, FIFA 22 will be the first FIFA title to support 4K and HDR, which will offer improved visuals with greater contrasts and better balance between light and dark. The game will be available on a selection of 4K monitors and TVs, including Samsung's new QLED UHD series and LG's latest Ultra HD TVs. Additionally, FIFA 22 will feature compatibility with Dolby Atmos® sound and is the first game in the history of FIFA to provide complete positional audio around the stadium. FIFA 22 is also the first game in the FIFA series to come with a free FIFA Ultimate Team® Season Pass, featuring all-new in-game content in the form of real-world clubs, players and stadiums - including Manchester City™, Bayern Munich™, Juventus, Atletico Madrid and LAFC. This in-game content will deliver players the chance to create their Ultimate Team® and win extra rewards. This Season Pass will also be available for the first time on Nintendo Switch. The FIFA Season Pass offers fans the ability to create their Ultimate Team® - more than 650 real-world teams in total - and will continue in future FIFA games. Players wanting to see more of FIFA 22 can follow the game on FIFA.com, as well as on social media using #FIFA22, #FUTSeasonPass and #FIFA19.

The game will also be available through the Xbox Live® family of gaming services, Steam, the PlayStation®Network, the Nintendo Switch eShop and the Windows 10 store, among other digital distribution platforms. "This is a moment for gaming," said Gianni Infantino, FIFA President. "FIFA 22 will be the most authentic football experience ever delivered on consoles, PCs, smartphones and all-in-one devices, as we introduce the next generation of game play with revolutionary new motion capture technology. The game will run in real-time on most platforms and look stunning, with 4K and HDR." "With the support of PlayStation, we're bringing gamers the most authentic and complete FIFA game ever made," said Andrew "Bermuda Don" Farrell, Global Head of Marketing, PlayStation. "As we prepare for launch, we're looking forward to seeing fans play FIFA 22 in its enhanced form on PS4, PlayStation VR and PlayStation®Camera. For those who haven't yet played the game, be sure

FIFA is the world's most popular football game franchise and the #1 selling sports brand. FIFA's Fastest Shot returns - with precise control and more variety, players now make their way up the 18-yard box with ferocious power and deadly accuracy. When a player completes a dribble and takes a shot with either foot, they can pull a 'fast shot' in any direction to send the ball in an arc towards the goal. The player won't be able to run through the defender, but his shot can travel farther than ever before. When a player clears a ball, the bounce is calculated realistically throughout the pitch, and players can even control the bounce on the floor thanks to FIFA's new Demolitions system. Powered by Soccer AI - all the way down to the individual player: a revolutionary new system based on behavior enables true player intelligence. The result is remarkable natural player movement that creates lifelike matches. This year AI technology is smarter, more intuitive and more tactical, resulting in smarter, more intelligent and more tactical gameplay. The integration of AI is much more detailed and realistic this season, with improved goalkeepers, defenders, and midfielders. Players will have AI decisions to make and times to react. The player won't be able to anticipate a move and take the perfect touch and shot, but they can react more quickly and with sharper movement. A new defensive system provides more tactical depth and subtlety to the game. The new system, which has never been tested in a competitive environment, goes far beyond the simple selection of a default mode of play. Players can now use their favorite defensive tactic on any field type in any game mode and play with a different style according to the team they are playing for, as well as changing positions. Return of the World Cup Every detail of the World Cup has been meticulously recreated in Fifa 22 Cracked 2022 Latest Version, from the stadiums in Russia to the format of the tournament itself. For the first time in the franchise, players can go head-to-head in the tournament and face the top teams from around the world. The National Teams are more diverse in Fifa 22 Cracked Version with teams coming from more countries than ever before. Teams are the most geographically accurate to date, and the graphics show highlights of the country and the stadiums players will be in during the competition. In addition, Fifa 22 Crack For Windows will include more major teams playing in the World
